

TRAILER TRASH (from page 9)

Nervous tension made writing a check difficult. She reached for plates. Almost three years in the works, it was my time.

Suddenly, finally, taxes paid, plates delivered, license returned, it was done!

I could finally use the trailer for a boat I no longer have.

From my standpoint, there remains much to fix with the unpaid tax issue and how people are expected to put life on hold for hours on end to complete simple transactions. My situation was resolved, but not the persistent tax conundrum.

Of all the legislators I approached, Sen. Susan Sosnowski was the only person to respond and I thank her for that.

Lisa and Erin will be the faces and voices of our DMV I remember the most. I appreciate that they listened, their professionalism and patience. Our DMV needs lots of work; it needs to function like a company which respects its customers, but there are some very good people who make it run and like David Bromberg used to sing, "Don't let the glasses fool 'ya."

Now, who wants to buy a nice, fully registered boat trailer?
