

Urban Shore Fishing

Access for all....

by Tom Duffy

Barrington River: The Bike Path Bridge

Barrington, Rhode Island

One of the more popular spots in the area. Many Dads bring their kids here, as it's a friendly spot with lots of other users other than young fisherman, as this bridge is part of the East Bay bike path. There is a nice parking lot right off Route 114 on the west side of the river that is open all night.

farm ramp near the "White church" on 114, then drive back up to this boat ramp and do a nice drift up (or down) the river.

DIRECTIONS

I-95 to Rt 114, then drive south to Barrington and simply look for the public lot on the left side, right before the bridge. If you go over the bridge, turn around.

FISHING IT

This is one location where clam bellies on a weighted hook are very popular. If you want to catch fish, go two hours before high tide, walk to the east side of the bridge, hook your bait, add a little weight, maybe 1-2 ounces, drop it in the water, let the current take it up river and wait. This is nice, easy, relaxing bridge fishing and Dad can be a hero here. The more complicated you make this spot, the less fish you will catch.

Below, under the south side of the bridge there is a small boat ramp for a small- to medium-size vessel. At night, with not many folks on the bridge to get tangled up in, I have fly-fished this ramp from my anchored canoe during the incoming with moderate success.

There is not much productive wading at this spot so you are better off on the bridge with everyone else. Also a great idea, which many have done, is to have someone park at the Walker

INFOMATION TO NOTE

GPS...	41°44.124"N 71°17.832"W
Parking...	Excellent
24 Hour access...	Yes
Canoe/Kayak use...	Yes
Fly Fishing...	Not recommended
Busy spot...	Yes
Kid friendly...	Yes
Wading...	Very little
Cleats Needed...	No

- MAINTENANCE, REPAIR & STORAGE
- EXTENSIVE FULLY STOCKED PARTS DEPT.
- FACTORY CERTIFIED TECHNICIANS

401-245-5090

17 Barton Ave., Barrington, RI 02806
office@stanleysboatyard.com service@stanleysboatyard.com

visit us at www.stanleysboatyard.com for a complete list services

Fly Fishing & Light Tackle Guide Service • Newport, RI

Captain Jim Barr
401.465.8751

www.SkinnyWaterChartersRI.com
info@SkinnyWaterChartersRI.com