Angler of the Year

This husband & wife fishing team have been together for 53 years and certainly know how to catch fluke. Every year this RISAA news magazine feature photos of them with doormat fluke.

From Booklyn, CT, Kathy and Pete have been RISAA members for the past 10 years.

They fish from their boat, Die Hard, a 23 foot Grady White Gulfstream. They will fish they waters of Long Island Sound from Fisher's Island to Westerly to Block Island.

They have figured out the right baits, etc. to put big fluke in the boat!

With a true passion for the thrill of the hunt, Capt. Shamus loves putting his clients on fish. He spends over 120 days charter fishing every season. He and fellow Big Game crew members was recently named 2017 Charter Captains of the Year by Sport Fishing Magazine, and has been featured in On The Water, The Fisherman and Coastal Angler magazines.

Mike mostly fishes from shore and started targeting fluke from shore when he was 10 years old! In all that time, he has gained the knowledge necessary to find and catch fluke from shore, which is elusive to most shore anglers. In fact, Mike holds the RISAA Hall of Fame record for 6.60 lb fluke landed last year. He fishes the Narragansett, Jamestown and Newport areas.
