Rhode Island Department of Environmental Management

Division of

Law Enforcement

Duties & Mission of Rhode Island's Environmental Police

Who are the Environmental Police?

In this webinar, an environmental officer will discuss

- What are their resources?
- How many officers are there?
- How many are assigned to fisheries?
- What kind of duties do the officers have?
- What are their priorities?

Dealing with poachers

One issue that RISAA members always ask is why arrested violators and poachers are not severely punished?

Why not confiscate their gear and boat?

What happens when they go to court?

- Are deals made?
- Are the judges the problem?
- Are laws not strict enough?

RI's Division of Law Enforcement has always worked closely with RISAA.

Officers participate on Take-A-Kid Fishing Day patrolling Greenwich Bay during the fishing event, and also provides instruction at the annual Youth Fishing Camp at Rocky Point.

A questions and answers period will follow the presentation (time permitting)
