Ice Fishing

within a 6 hour drive of RI

featuring

Capt. B.J. Silvia

with

Greg Vespe

Tired of spending the winter sharpening hooks and dreaming of expensive fishing vacations in Florida? Well, don't think these are your only fishing options this winter.

Local captain, frequent seminar speaker, and RISAA Member, Capt. B.J. Sylvia - with a little assist from Greg Vespe - will share their knowledge of ice fishing!

New technologies, coupled with improved winter clothing, have combined to allow even more comfort and success for ice fishing, New England offers plenty of locations within a few hours drive and even locally here within Rhode Island.

During this seminar BJ and Greg will cover the different species most likely to be encountered, including northern pike, lake trout, brook trout, crappie, bass and a mix of other fish. Safety, light tackle, jigging, tip-ups and more will be described, in addition to the use of fish-finders. Also, the locations of lodges that cater to ice fishing will be covered.

If you have never considered ice fishing it's time to take a look!
